DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 18-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Scott, US 5316246.

3. With respect to claims 18, 19, and 23, Scott teaches a hose for IV solution and a clamp 11 attached to the hose, wherein the clamp has a marking surface adapted to receive tape or a label for identifying the medication flowing through the hose.

4. With respect to claims 21 and 25, since Scott teaches using tape, it is inherent that adhesive tape can be removably retained on the clamp.

5. With respect to claims 22 and 26, figures 3A and 3B clearly shows the marking surface and tape straddling the hose.

6. With respect to claims 20 and 24, the engagement is the adhesive on the tape.

7. Claims 1-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Wolfson, US 5281228.

8. With respect to claims 1, 7, 8-14, Wolfson teaches an identification member 66, a cross member 64 attached to the identification member to retain the identification member adjacent a hose clamp 62 and a member 78/82 for securing the identification device to a hose clamp.

9. With respect to claim 2, the identification member is plate 66.

10. With respect to claim 3, Wolfson also teaches a stabilizing plate 76/80 attached to the cross member 68, wherein the bottom portion of the stabilizing plate is parallel identification member.

11. With respect to claim 6, the planar surface of the identification device matches the planar surface of the hose clamp.

12. Claims 1-9, 11, and 13, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Schweikert, US 2003/0066218.

13. With respect to claims 1, 11, and 13, Schweikert teaches catheter information ring 110 comprising an identification member 124, 630 and a cross member 112, 602 attached to the identification member, wherein the cross member transverses a hose clamp 170 to retain the identification member 124, 630 adjacent the clamp independently of the hose on which the hose clamp is located. (See figures 1,2, 4-9). Schweikert also teaches a member 610 for securing the device to the hose clamp.

14. Referring to claim 12, Schweikert teaches a first connecting portion having an identification member 630, and a cross member 602 attached to the identification member 630, wherein the cross member transverses a hose clamp to retain the identification member 630 adjacent the clamp independently of the hose on which the hose clamp is located. Schweikert also teaches a second connecting portion 608 engageable with the first connecting portion, wherein the second connecting portion has a cross member 610 having a curved or rounded portion which is loosely engageable against the curved portion 584 of the hose clamp. See paragraph 0044. The curved portion of the cross member 610 of the second cross member corresponds to the "member that engages the hose clamp" as claimed.

15. With respect to claim 2, the identification member is in the form of a plate. (See figures 1-12).

16. With respect to claim 6, the identification device substantially matches the contours of the hose clamp so no portions of the identification device substantially protrude beyond the hose clamp. (See paragraph 0042).

17. With respect to claim 7, the identification device is secured adjacent the hose clamp to reduce or prevent movement of the identification device independent of the hose clamp. The information ring is adapted to have the hose or conduit extend through opening 122.

Response to Arguments

18. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 9-26 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

19. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
